

BURNETT BILL PASSES HOUSE

Immigration Measure is Adopted
Shorn of Exclusion Amendments
by a Vote of 241 to 126.—a Literary Test is Provided

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Burnett immigration bill, including a literary test for applicants to admission to the United States was passed by the house this afternoon by a vote of 241 to 126. All proposed amendments relating to the exclusion of Asiatic immigrants previously had been eliminated.

As the bill passed, it provides that every immigrant admitted to the U. S. must be able to read the English language, or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish. It prescribes the method of testing immigrants, providing that each applicant for admission must read a slip on which is printed between 30 and 40 words.

In its present form this measure passed the House and the Senate in the last Congress, but was vetoed by President Taft. A similar bill was vetoed during President Cleveland's second administration. The supporters of the bill are confident that it will again pass the Senate, although President Wilson has let it be known that he does not approve the literary test.

Opponents of the literary test fought strenuously, but on the last effort to eliminate it from the bill they were defeated 140 to 239. The final vote came at the end of a vigorous debate, which at times threw the house into confusion and on several occasions threatened to cause serious trouble.

Representative Burnett of Alabama in charge of the bill tried to hurry the debate along and frequently moved to proceed and shut off the discussion. On one occasion Representative Manahan of Minnesota commented on what he called the "unfairness with which this bill has been driven through," and the unfair statements of the chairman, Mr. Burnett, in view of his fear and cowardice which he has shown in not daring to answer objections.

With a bound, Representative Burnett was on his feet.

"That's a lie Mr. Chairman," he shouted, "and the gentleman knows it," he shouted.

Amidst a tumult of demands of recognition, points of order, and a general outburst of disorder, Representative Day in the chair, finally called Representative Manahan to order.

Another outburst followed in the course of which Representative Manahan withdrew the word cowardice. Minority Leader Mann eventually brought about an exchange of apologies.

at the North Congregational parsonage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. L. H. Thayer and the couple were unattended. The bride wore a navy blue suit, white silk waist; blue hat with white plumes. Mr. and Mrs. McNeil left shortly after the ceremony for a short trip to New York and Washington, and on their return will reside in a newly furnished home on Union street.

SAILED 52 YEARS AGO TODAY

Famous Sloop-of-War Kear-sarge Departed in Command of Captain Pickering.

The famous sloop of war, Kearsarge, which made history for the American navy in her battle with the Confederate vessel, Alabama, sailed from this yard 32 years ago today. She was in command of Captain Charles W. Pickering, a Portsmouth man, and her crew was made up of many brave men from this and other cities of the Granite State. At 11:23 of the gallant crew have passed on to their long rest.

Marlin Hoyt, William Y. Evans, and John O'Brien are the only survivors of the Portsmouth men that were among the crew and participated in the famous battle off the French coast.

CIVILIAN HEADS FOR NAVY YARDS

Buchanan Urges Them in Place of Officers—Daniels
Says "It's a Grave Problem."

Secretary Daniels of the Navy is still before the House Naval Committee on the discussion of the naval appropriation bill and affairs of the navy. On Wednesday, Representative Buchanan of Illinois questioned the secretary about the efficiency of the present military direction of the work of the yards declaring that the practice of placing naval officers as commanders in navy yards cost the government the price of a battleship every year in efficiency. He urged that civilian experts be placed in charge of the yards. Secretary Daniels said the proposal presented a grave problem.

TWO KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

Priests, Badly Hurt, Administer Last Rites of Church to Dying Companions.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 4.—Two men were instantly killed and two others badly hurt, when a New Haven train struck the automobile in which they were riding on the grade crossing near the railroad station in East Blackstone at 3.35 this afternoon. The dead are:

J. F. Arthur Roberge, a real estate agent of Woonsocket.

Oreste Leoni, chauffeur.

The injured are Rev. Henry J. Gaudet, curate at St. Ann's church Woonsocket, and Rev. George Trotter of Gardner, Mass.

The bodies of Roberge and Leoni were badly mangled. Father Gaudet was badly bruised about the face and body and Father Trotter has a bruised left leg, a bad gash on his face and is otherwise shaken up.

The automobile was reduced to a mass of tangled debris. Oreste Leoni the 17 year old brother of Pyllade Leoni, owner of the car, had been engaged to take the party of three from Woonsocket to East Blackstone, Mass., where they were to visit priest. Father Trotter came to Woonsocket yesterday to attend the funeral of Rev. Napoleon LeClere, pastor of St. Ann's where Father Gaudet is curate.

The party had arrived nearly at its destination. On the front seat priests occupying the tonneau, on approaching the grade crossing, the car proceeded slowly because of the bad condition of the road. When the machine drove onto the tracks Father Trotter who was first to see the onrushing train shouted a warning to Leoni but it was too late, and before the chauffeur could either put on power enough to get clear or back of the track, the big locomotive crashed into the automobile scattering it and its occupants in every direction.

Leoni and Roberge were killed almost instantly. The two priests escaped death almost through a miracle. Both of them were hurled through the air away from the tracks. Both of Roberge's feet were cut off and his head crushed.

Leoni's head was crushed. The train which struck the machine was local 7113 leaving Boston at 2.15 and due at the River street station, Woonsocket at 3.45. It was in charge of Conductor J. E. Monahan of Boston and Engineer E. F. McCaffery of this city.

There are neither gates nor crossing tender where the accident occurred, but few trains passing here during the day. The line at that point is a single track. Where the road approaches the crossing there is a small hill and the banking obstructs the view from the road.

The machine was already on the track when Engineer McCaffery first quickly as possible and backed down to the scene.

Father Gaudet and Trotter though severely hurt, crowded to the places where their companions were lying and bestowed consolation on the men who were breathing their last.

The bodies of Roberge and Leoni were viewed by Medical Examiner Dr. W. L. Johnson of Uxbridge, while Father Gaudet and Father Trotter returned to Woonsocket in the train which struck the machine and were taken to St. Ann's rectory.

At the rectory they were attended by Dr. A. Constantineau, who found no permanent injuries. Both the men killed were unmarried.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once—No More Falling Hair

If you care for heavy hair that shines with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy, and lustrous, try Dandruff.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength, and its very life, and if not removed, it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fanish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected, and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair, and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp, and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Dandruff. If eventually—why not now?

SETTLE MANY LABOR DISPUTES
Federal Board of Mediation and Arbitration Has Considered Eighteen Serious Cases Since its Creation Without a Failure.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Since the Federal Board of Mediation and Arbitration was created a few months ago, eighteen cases of a serious nature have been laid before it, and all of them have been settled amicably, either through mediation or arbitration, according to a report by the board today. In only two cases brought to the board's attention did the men quit work, and in one of these train operations were suspended before information of the situation reached the board, while in the other knowledge of the approaching strike did not reach it until within 12 hours of its occurrence.

The prompt services of the board in both cases resulted in the resumption of complete transportation within 24 hours.

The grievances considered by the board have involved practically every railroad in the Eastern and Southern sections of the country and two of the largest railroads west of the Mississippi. The number of employees affected was about 100,000.

HE FINDS HIS BOYHOOD WISH FULFILLED.

Representative Claude Weaver of Oklahoma finds in his coming to Congress the fulfillment of a wish expressed since he was nine years old. At that age he began his diary with the statement that he was hours on his hands, decided to go out in the suburbs and release his ardent wish.

He selected a secluded spot on the road along which ran a long, high brick wall, with a gate at the end. Weaver did not know it but this was the state lunatic asylum.

Up and down the road he paced, talking most vehemently, gestulating wildly to an imaginary audience, determined to be one of the nation's representatives. And ever since then he has worked with this object in view.

Weaver settled in Oklahoma when there were few white people living there. But in one of his trips in 1902, as, to deliver a political speech, he had an adventure which seemed at the time much more serious than it does now. He reached the town in which he was billed and as he had a few audience, shaking his head and pointing one hand upon the other. People who passed shook their heads sadly.

Presently as he neared the green iron gate, four uniformed men rushed out, grabbed him by the arms and legs and carried him, kicking and dodging inside the grounds. Weaver, glowing with rage, demanded an explanation of such an outrage.

"Aw, gwan," chorled one of the burly guards, setting Weaver on his feet with a jerk. "What you handin' us—we knows you is one of them boys outen ward."

"Lunatic?" yelled Weaver who now saw into what spot he had landed. "Lunatic? Why I am a politician and expect to go to congress."

"Well," drawled the guard with a grin, "I don't know but what you've got to just the same kind of place now."

Providence, R. I., Feb. 4.—George Hanson inflicted a probably fatal wound upon himself tonight after having it is alleged, fired three shots at Miss Ruth Carlson, his former housekeeper. The only bullet which struck the woman fractured a bone in the right elbow.

Hanson, the police say, jumped from behind a fence as Miss Carlson and a man named Benson were passing the corner of Poplar street, and Curran lane, and opened fire with a revolver. The last bullet went into his own head. Benson disappeared. Hanson and Miss Carlson were taken to a hospital and the physicians say that Hanson cannot recover.

A REVOLUTION IN PERU AND PRESIDENT ARRESTED

Lima, Peru, Feb. 4.—The President of the Republic of Peru, Guillermo Billinghurst, was taken prisoner today by military revolutionists, who attacked the Presidential palace under the leadership of Col. Benavides.

Gen. Enrique Varela, Premier and Minister of War and Marine, was killed in the fighting.

Dr. Augusto Durand, a former Revolutionary leader, whose arrest was sought by the police yesterday, took possession of the palace, and it is generally believed, that he will form a new Government.

The attack on the palace began at 4.30 a. m. Thousands of the inhabitants of Lima dashed into the streets alarmed by the firing. The soldiers were ordered to fire volleys into the air in order to prevent the formation of crowds in the streets, and this order kept the people moving from place to place.

In the vicinity of San Pedro church a civilian was killed by a bullet.

Great alarm prevailed throughout the city, and banks and stores were closed and private houses barricaded. The street cars, however, began running before noon.

President Billinghurst was later taken by the Rebels as a prisoner to Callao, from which port he will be sent into exile.

WOULD HAVE NATIONAL LAW FORBIDDING DIVORCES

Washington, Feb. 4.—Divorce with the right to remarry would be prohibited forever in the United States and in all places under the nation's jurisdiction by an amendment to the Federal Constitution proposed in the Senate today by Senator Ransdell of Louisiana. Enactment of uniform marriage laws for all states and territories, with provision for separation without permission to remarry, would be directed by the amendment. With the states of the Union granting more than twice as many divorces as all the rest of Christendom combined, Senator Ransdell told his colleagues that the time had come for the nation itself to put down this menace to the chief bulwark of society, the home—the maker of good citizens and the model on which every wise Government is founded.

"The remedy for constitutional prohibition is drastic," said the senator,

"but the remedy is so fatal that nothing short of it will prove efficacious. In the United States divorce is spreading with alarming rapidity. It has permeated every walk of life, and is prevalent among every class of people. The total number of divorces granted in 1907 was 9937, or 27 per 100,000 population. Forty years later, in 1906 there were 72,062 divorces, or 85 per 100,000; thus in actual numbers there were more than seven times as many divorces granted in 1906 as in 1867, or, allowing for the increased population, divorce has increased 310 per cent. If divorces multiply at the same rate in the future as in the past—and there is every indication that they will increase faster—then before the middle of this century we will have annually in the United States 275 divorces per 100,000 population, or one divorce for every five marriages.

Might Even Forbid Divorce

"If the United States were to write in the Constitution an amendment prohibiting absolute divorce, it would not be taking such a radical step as might at first be thought, but would be following a beaten path. Our own state of South Carolina—all honor to her—forbids divorce. It is absolutely prohibited in Italy, Spain and to two thirds of the population of Austria-Hungary, while the Latin American countries of Mexico, Argentina, Republic, Brazil, Peru, Chile and others have similar laws. While many excellent people are divorced and some of them make new homes, the inevitable trend of divorce is to break up many more homes than it builds up, and to materially reduce the number of children. When marriage is dissolved the true home ceases to exist; the parents and the children are separated and the sweet ties that bind father and mother to their offspring, and to each other, are broken forever.

"As long as the Romans of old looked upon marriage as sacred, and held the sanctity of the home inviolate, their arms were invulnerable, and Rome became mistress of the world. But with the accumulation of colossal wealth came great laxity of morals; marriage became a jest, and child bearing a useless burden. The vicious Romans lost all respect for female chastity; the heroic virtues of their early years were forgotten, and the empire fell the victim of luxury and disregard for the binding effects of marriage. Shall not the United States take warning from Rome's example?"

THINKS THE SUPPLY SHIP WILL BE BUILT AT BOSTON

Boston, Feb. 4.—Mayor Curley, at 11 this afternoon talked by long distance telephone with Asst. Sec. Roosevelt of the Navy Department, and while informed that no award had been made yet in regard to the supply ship, he received the assurance that if the revised bids of the Charlestown Navy Yard came within the estimate of the Naval Board, namely, $1,350,000, the contract for the building of that ship would be awarded to the Charlestown navy yard.

Mayor Curley, after receiving this information, said that in view of the fact that the navy yard's original bid was well below the estimates of the Naval Board he felt satisfied that the revised bids would, he within the board's estimates and that the supply ship would be constructed in Charlestown.

"This," said the Mayor, "will be the first ship of any size that has been constructed in the Charlestown navy yard since the Civil War. In the construction of this supply ship, ways and cranes must be installed, which will mean that 2000 or more men will be assured of permanent work. Hitherto only repair work has been done at this yard, but with the installation of cranes, etc., the way will be open for construction work for the future.

"I feel very proud of getting this work here, and I want to thank all the other Congressmen for the aid they gave me, for all were interested in having the supply ship built here."

WENEHASA DEFEAT THE STRONG DUMMER ACADEMY

The Wenehasa Club basketball team, showing the benefit of Henry Druggan's coaching, defeated the Dummer Academy team at South Byfield, Mass., Wednesday afternoon, by 30 to 16. The locals had the hardest game of the season and in disposing of the Massachusetts team, they have defeated one of the strongest interschool basketball teams of the Bay State and who are regarded as this year's Massachusetts state champions. This was also the first home defeat of the losers in the hands of a school five. In two years, the assumption being made on the basis that the members of the local quintet are Portsmouth high school members.

The backfield play of March was sensational while Mugridge covered

Peto, the loser's strongest player, so closely that he was unable to get a basket from the floor. The forward play of Brackett and Hunkler was all that could be desired while Sandersoh more than held his own at center. Rowe and Young excelled for the losers. The latter sustained an injured knee during the last period and was forced to retire.

The Wenehasa Club has for its next important game St. John's Prep at Danvers, and since Dummer has a victory over the Danvers school, the chances for annexing this important game look bright. The crucial game of this month is scheduled for Feb. 27 when Manchester high comes to this city. Both teams have beaten Berwick Academy by overwhelming scores, with the odds in favor of the locals. If the Wenehasa succeed in winning this game, the high school state championship will be claimed and all teams disputing it will be met. Efforts are being made to place the Summerworth, recently defeated by the Y. M. C. A. on the schedule, while the Nemo A. C. will be met next Wednesday night in a double bill, with the Summerworth five, playing a return game with the Y. M. C. A. The summary:

Wenehasa Club	Dummer Academy
Brackett 11	in Yonah
Rowe 10	in Senior
March 10	in Young
Mugridge 10	in Holden
	in de Hussey

Score: Wenehasa Club 30, Dummer Academy 16. Goals from floor, Brackett 3, Hunkler 2, Sandersoh 4, March 5, Mugridge 10, Rowe 3, Young 3, de Hussey. Referee Jenkins. Score: Hatch, Timmer Watkins, Time 15 minutes.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ROLL CALL

Alpha Council Royal Archmason, on Wednesday evening had a largely attended meeting, the occasion being a roll call. This is the first held for many years, and considering the other attractions there was a large turnout on the part of the members.

There was considerable enthusiasm shown, and some of the oldest members were present and answered to their names. Others sent word by letter and in all, a large per cent of the over three hundred members, responded.

It was arranged to hold a smoke talk on Feb. 18 and at that time G. B. Cutler of Boston will be one of the attractions. Plans were also made for other affairs during the remaining months of the winter to entertain the members.

Following the business meeting last evening supper was served and it was long after midnight when the members left after the social hour that followed.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND COSTIVE!—CASCARETS

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, Meas Liver and Bowels Clogged—Clean Up To-night

Get a ten cent box now. Purged Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headache come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sores and renders life garbage in a small barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, bad breath, rages, yellow skin, mental fumes, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you constipation bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—ten cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take Cascarets now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good gentle cleansing too.

ASQUITH TO OFFER ULSSTER GREAT CONCESSIONS.

Everything Short of Exclusion from Home Rule to be Tendered, in Report of Newspapers.

Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 4.—Concessions of the most sweeping description are to be made in Ulster in connection with the introduction of home rule in Ireland in the course of a statement to be made by Premier Asquith on the resumption of Parliament, according to today's Glasgow Herald. The concessions, says the newspaper are to cover practically everything short of the exclusion of Ulster from the provisions of the home rule measure. The announcement made by the Herald is regarded in political circles as particularly significant, since it coincides with the arrival in Glasgow of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to speak on the land question.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

There's no sense in mixing up a mess of mustard, flour and water and getting everything all muddled up when you can so easily relieve that pain or soreness with a little clean, white MUSTEROLE.

MUSTEROLE is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of a pleasant white ointment. It takes the place of the out-of-date mustard plaster, and will not blister!

MUSTEROLE gives instant relief from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the MUSTEROLE Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid. (64)

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

LOST HIS JOB BECAUSE HE HELPED

Concord, Feb. 4.—Arthur H. Parker of Troy, for the past 17 months assistant engineer at the state sanatorium for Consumptives at Glenmont, has been discharged by Superintendent Wise, on orders from the state board of control, for his connection with the recent unanimous protest of the patients there against the food supply. Mr. Parker was formerly a correspondent of the Keene Sentinel. He was affected with tuberculosis when he went to the institution, but recovered and took the position from which he has now been dismissed.

In a statement Parker says that as a newspaper man he consented to put the unanimous protest of the patients in shape for publication, as he had had personal experience in the food supply and had deep sympathy for the patients in their troubles.

Since the publication two investigations have been made of the sanatorium by the board of control and by the state board of charities and corrections, and as a result of which, Mr. Parker says, there has been a noticeable improvement in the food, especially in the beef and canned goods.

Mr. Parker says he realizes that the loss of his position comes to him as a punishment and he is sorry to lose his job, but he says he shall not regret what has happened if the improvement in the sanatorium is to be permanent.

Hands Off the Flag.

Grand Army men and loyal northerners everywhere, to whom news has not yet come, will be surprised to learn that there is on foot a movement for altering the American flag in a manner to give special recognition to the South. It is proposed to place on the blue field two bars extending diagonally across the field from opposite corners, so that the design would consist in the bars, the stars and the stripes.

It is not surprising that this movement should have been started by the Daughters of the Confederacy, but the fact that it has been endorsed by the Daughters of the American Revolution is little less than amazing. One would naturally suppose that, next to the Grand Army of the Republic, that would have been the last body in the country to sanction such a change in the design of the American flag.

There is no reasonable ground whatever for such a change, and every reason in the world why it should not be made. The stars and stripes have been the flag of the United States from the time the colonies united to stand for a free country with a government of, by and for the people. It has been followed to victory on land and sea by brave men who were willing to suffer and die for such a country and such a government. It commands the admiration and reverence of every lover of freedom, and the respect of the civilized world, and any change which would cause it to represent anything that it did not originally stand for would be nothing short of sacrilege.

It is true that the war between the states is over, and has been for nearly half a century. It is true that much has been done on both sides of Mason and Dixon's line to obliterate the scars and banish its bitter memories. In the reconstruction of the government there was displayed a magnanimity toward those who had tried to destroy it that was the wonder of the world.

And that was all right. What was done was well done and no slumbering animosities should be revived by an attempt to change the flag so as to give special recognition to any section. Ours is a glorious and an undivided country, and the flag that has been good enough from the beginning should suffice, without change, for the present and the future.

The express companies have been hard hit by the parcel post, but that was to have been expected, just as it is to be expected that if any great number of people are benefited by reduction of the tariff others will feel the effects in a different and less agreeable way. The best that Uncle Sam can do is to continue to figure for "the greatest good of the greatest number."

The navy board wants the government to build twice as many battleships and auxiliaries as Secretary Daniels calls for. But perhaps this high bid is to make it easier for the secretary to get just what he wants. To cut down the appropriation after such a drop in the demand might seem actually cruel.

The democrats in Washington, from the president down, regard the re-election of a democratic House and Senate as the most important work of the year, and will endeavor to prevent legislation from interfering with that end. In this view and action the democrats have illustrious precedent.

Flirting has reached such proportions in the chapel meetings of the Ohio penitentiary that hereafter the men and women will have to "worship" separately. Perhaps a similar regulation might improve the decorum at some of the country school house prayer meetings.

It is again claimed that the high prices of meats are due to a shortage of meat animals. And when there is no shortage the export business steadily expands. Meat eaters are squarely between the two horns of a most perplexing and exasperating dilemma.

It is understood that President Wilson is strongly opposed to the literacy test in the immigration bill. So are many others, yet the provision has its earnest supporters, the question being one on which honest men can honestly differ.

Boston newsboys have helped to unearth a counterfeiters' den. The "newsies" are useful in more ways than one, and this would be a dreary world without them.

The suffragists get rather cold comfort at the White House. The President treats them courteously, but declines to fall into their arms, literally or figuratively.

Mr. Pingell of Illinois raises himself in the public estimation by declining the Russian ambassadorship. A really cheap man would not have done that.

The Panama canal affords a great deal of lecture timber, as nearly every community is aware.

It is said that ocean steamer rates may come down to $10. But there would be no "class" to a European tour at that price.

Abraham Lincoln, His Log Cabin Home, and National Memorial.

The memory of Abraham Lincoln does not fade as time wears on, and the commemoration of his birthday this year is a national event of utmost interest and importance. Feb. 12 has become one of the great days of observance for the American people, and rightly so, for the influence exerted on their affairs by the martyred president will be powerful for all time. The illustration shows a war time photo of Lincoln, the log cabin where he lived in early youth and the memorial which will be erected on the Potomac river in Washington.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Feb. 4.—Professor Charles James, head of the Department of chemistry, now has on a table in his laboratory, a row of little beakers, each containing a few grains of a white crystalline substance known as tellurium bromate. There are in all about 50 grains of the substance, which will yield about twenty grains of tellurium oxide, and it is worth about $2000.

Besides this tellurium here in New Hampshire, the world's total supply is a little bit of seven grains in the Laboratory of Chemistry in Paris. Tellurium is one of the rare earths and the little selection of crystals here is the residue of several tons of ore. This ore is concentrated form, about 500 pounds in all, was sent here five years ago, and the present 50 grains of pure tellurium bromate are the result of constant labor since that time.

Tellurium is one of the many rare earth metals which Professor James has under investigation and in this line of work he is one of the foremost researchers of the world.

It has taken many years to collect the raw material for this investigation and at present here and in England Professor James has isolated many samples of the rarest. They are divided into sets of three and each set is given a special place for security against fire or other disaster. Many are kept under lock and key in one of the college safes.

Miss Margaret DeMeritt of Durham, a graduate of the class of 1911, has just been appointed an instructor in biology at Wellesley. Miss DeMeritt since graduation has been studying at Washington University at St. Louis for the doctor's degree in botany. Miss DeMeritt is a daughter of the late Albert DeMeritt, a former trustee of the college and the representative from this district in the legislature. She will begin her work in Wellesley next September.

TALKS ON THRIFT.

No. 5—Worldwide Thriftlessness.

"When the masses are educated to understand the importance of thrift, our national thrift and prosperity will be at floodtide."—William C. Cook, Chicago banker.

In all the discussion and speculation about higher living cost and the slowing up of business at the present time, it is only once in a while that we hear the matter of thrift or the lack of it, mentioned in that connection, and yet it is one of the most important factors in the situation.

There is nothing local about the conditions which now exist. They are worldwide, and the chief cause is lack of plain, old-fashioned thrift. It is simply the habit of extravagance, of wastefulness, of heedlessness, that has been growing fast among all classes of people and all governments. Before capital can be created wealth must be saved. However great the production of wealth, if it is not saved it cannot be applied to the reproductive process to the creation of new wealth. But even if when saved and thus applied, it is devoted to reproductive wealth in new, economically useless and extravagant forms, it is a burden rather than a benefit to the lives of the plain people whose necessities of food, clothing and shelter must be supplied out of the sum total.

The American people are spending in forms of luxury, pleasure and display that are new in this generation, large amounts that in an earlier day would have been saved and invested. Families in cities and the country, that formerly would have lived economically, saved money and banked or loaned it or themselves invested it, now, for example, have automobiles costing from a few hundred to several thousand dollars, and requiring from a few hundred to several thousand dollars annually for their upkeep. Instead of buying mortgages they sign mortgages. Instead of depositing money in the bank they are trying to borrow it for extravagant purposes.

Of course, every American is not so foolish. There are still some who have not bowed the knee to this idol of extravagance, but the genuinely thrifty man is too often a lone one. Individual in these times.—T. D. MacGregor.

UNDERWOOD BARS PLEA OF SUFFRAGISTS

Democratic Leader Says He Would Not Favor a Resolution Submitting Equal Suffrage Amendment to People.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Hopes of woman suffragists that the present democratic administration would enact federal legislation enfranchising the women of the country, were checked today when Representative Underwood of Alabama, majority leader of the house, put the democratic party squarely on record as opposed to federal action.

Representative Underwood declared that the democratic party took the position that the question of suffrage should be left to the individual states to settle.

The question cropped up in the discussion of the immigration bill in the house and there was considerable debate as to just what action of the democratic house caucus in rejecting the Raker woman suffrage resolution meant. Representative Lenoir of Wisconsin declared that by defeating the proposition to create a new woman suffrage committee the democrats had taken the position that women should not have an opportunity to be heard on the suffrage question.

"The gentleman knows," replied Representative Underwood, "the judiciary committee has been vested for many years with jurisdiction over this very question and it has repeatedly granted hearings to women as to whether legislation shall be passed, submitting to the states a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage."

"I was at one time a member of the judiciary committee, and I recall a hearing given to Susan B. Anthony. I notice that during the entire time the gentleman's party was in charge of this house it refused to report a suffrage resolution. The proposition that came before the democratic caucus was merely to provide for a new committee, giving jurisdiction to the new committee which jurisdiction is already possessed by one of the ablest committees of this house."

"This committee has had much jurisdiction, almost since the beginning of the government. There is no objection on the part of these ladies as to what committee they shall go before. They wanted their legislation reported, and though they could not get it reported from the committee in charge, so they wanted to create a new committee. That is all there is to it. It is not a question of taking from them the right to be heard."

"Will the gentleman, as leader of the majority," asked Mr. Lenoir, "use his influence in the house for a report of that resolution, so that we may have an opportunity here to vote on it?" "I would not do so, because I'm not in favor of it," replied Mr. Underwood. "If there is one fundamental principle that my party stands for, it is local self-government. If the democratic party stands for one thing above all others, it is that the right of franchise shall be governed by the states of the Union and not by the national government."

PRUNELLA AT THE MAJESTIC.

In the production of "Prunella," the current attraction at the Majestic Theatre, which remains but one more week, closing its engagement on Feb. 14, Winthrop Ames has used every subtle art to create and preserve the atmosphere of poetic unreality, in which the blend of legendary fancy and symbolic suggestion unfolds itself. In the writing prose and verse alternate. There is also admirable interpretative musical setting which accompanies every detail of the acting.

The bare outlines of the plot convey but an imperfect notion of the charm of the play which depends for effect largely upon its satirical and whimsical humor; its allegorical suggestion; its literary cleverness and its romantic and poetic atmosphere.

Probably the feeling of the play is best established by the exquisite scene in which it is set. It is a tiny garden, walled from the outer world by high box hedges, adjacent to the thatched cottage, where Prunella, under the prim and arbitrary supervision of her three spinster aunts lives her forlorn life.

WORTH KNOWING.

The highest structure in America, and, with one exception, the highest of any kind in the world, has just been completed near Tuckerton, on the New Jersey coast. It is a wireless telegraph tower 325 feet high and only 20 feet in diameter. It tops the great Woolworth Building in New York, by 75 feet, and looks 150 feet of being as high as the famous Eiffel tower of Paris, which is still the tallest monument to man's engineering ability and ingenuity.

What is a snail's pace?

CURRENT OPINION

No Hope of Cheaper Argentine Beef.

If the citizens of the United States are expecting that beef from Argentina is going to lower the price of meat in America they are deluding themselves with a vain hope. There is not the slightest chance of its happening in the near future anyway, and I very much doubt if it will ever happen. At any rate, that is how the outlook appears to me, and I think I am right.

There is no trade organized in Argentina, and by the time it is it will be in the hands of the American beef trust. Already that situation is being brought about. The English companies there for the supply of the English market are fighting for their lives now, and no independent American company is in sight and probably is not possible.

One of the English companies has been put out of existence. Two others are struggling. Two of the biggest cold storage concerns, still supposed to be Argentine, are now controlled by American capital, and events prove that the capital is not independent. These companies retain their original names, and so among the general public in Argentina there is no suspicion.—William Gunther Gardner, British Consul at Buenos Aires.

FORMER PASTOR PASSES AWAY

Rev. John W. Webster Held Pastorate at Kittery Point.

Rev. John W. Webster, at one time holding a pastorate at Kittery Point, died on Wednesday at Pine Point, Me., aged 66 years. He was also a former member of the school board of Kittery and past department commander of the Grand Army. He served in the Maine legislature and his last pastorate was at Newport, Me.

Mr. Webster is at the present time chaplain of the department of Maine, G. A. R., also a member of Naval Lodge of Masons at Kittery, of the Chapter at Newport, of the G. A. R. post at Lovell and of the Odd Fellows lodge at Lovell. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Thomas R. Cochrane, and one grandson, Francis Webster Chase, both of Pine Point, and one sister, Mrs. George H. Herrick of West Somerville, Mass.

The Hudson Six-54, $2250

(I. o. b. Detroit, Mich.)

The Economy of the HUDSON Six

In an automobile motor with 300 cubic inches combustion space (used merely as an example to divide it into four cylinders means 75 cubic inches to each cylinder. To divide it into six means 50 cubic inches to each cylinder. Yet the TOTAL remains the same. Hence the fact that a Six can burn no more gasoline than a Four of equal power. The smooth running of the Six means tire saving. It isn't mileage that wears tires excessively—it's jerks, jars, slips and slides. The HUDSON Six moves smoothly with no vibration. You save gasoline, oil, tires and general upkeep when you drive a HUDSON Six. We have proved this in public contests against the best Fours built.

Until you drive a HUDSON Six you cannot realize its great advantages. Its smoothness and flexibility are an insurance as well as a delight. HUDSON Sixes are preferred because of high quality combined with moderate price. The Six-54 has four forward speeds, 135-inch wheel-base, motor 14x54, developing 55 horse-power. Made in Phoenia at $2250 and Sehan at $3100. The Six-40 has 122-inch wheel-base, motor 14x50, developing 47 horse-power, gives 18 to 17 miles to the gallon of gasoline, and is, we think, the easiest riding car on the market. The Six-40 in Phoenia and Rochester at $1750, and in Cabriolet at $1950. (All cars, of course, are electrically started and lighted, left side drive, center control, gasoline tank in covered dash. Catalog on request. Demonstrations as arranged. Prices I. o. b. Detroit, Mich.)

DISASTROUS FIRE IN PITTSBURGH

All Fighting Apparatus in City Pressed Into Service—Loss Estimated at $100,000.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 5. Fire broke out shortly before midnight last night in the store of McCrory & Co., in the heart of the retail and department district and threatened to spread to all the buildings in the square bounded by Fifth avenue, Woods, Smithfield and Diamond streets early this morning.

All the fire fighting apparatus in the city was called out, but little headway was made against the flames. The loss is estimated at $100,000 early today.

RAILROAD NOTES

The night gang at the Boston & Maine repair shops at Keene, numbering about 100 has received orders to report to work at the new Belknap shops next Monday. Most of the men will leave Saturday for Lowell to find lodging places. It has been reported that the men from the day force will be called to go to Belknap 50 or more to go each week.

Representatives of railroad men in Illinois have asked the new Public Utilities Commission to make the railroads increase safeguards against injuries. It is declared that the increase in traffic calling for heavier, and longer trains than were expected by the builders of the railways have forced engines, cars and cars to be built now too large to pass with safety over many roads.

Efforts to adjust the wage increase demands of the Boston Elevated lower telegraphers ended by the breaking up of negotiations between company's officials and men. The matter has now been placed in the hands of the international officers of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

The Pennsylvania railroad has opened a new freight station at Pier 32, East river, to make the facilities more accessible. All downtown freight terminals have been located on the North river side of Manhattan, making it necessary for shippers on the east side to haul freight across the town.

The locomotive, boiler and tracksmith departments of Pennsylvania Railroad's Wilmington shops, which have been working forty hours a week for several months have resumed full time of 55 hours. About 2000 men are affected.

To require witnesses to answer questions asked by Commerce Commissioner Meckard regarding the ownership of private refrigerator cars, the collector of the commission filed a petition in the federal court against Frederick W. Mills an official of the Armour Packing Company.

The National Industrial Traffic League declares that carriers rather than shippers are responsible for not obtaining maximum efficiency from freight cars and instructs its transportation committee to co-operate with the American Railway Association for standardizing equipment and car interchange rules.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has notified the secretary of New Jersey that it would refuse to honor railroad passes held by 137 state officials, employees and officers of its railroad. The action follows the decision of the supreme court in refusing to grant free transportation to certain state officials.

The Minneapolis, Civic and Commerce Association and St. Paul Association of Commerce have filed complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Boston & Maine and others, alleging that traffic by lake and rail from points in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and Kentucky to points in Minnesota is preferential in favor of Duluth and Mississippi river crossings.

Thomas Plimpton for the past two years clerk at the office of Foreman Shattworth of the round house has resigned to accept an apprenticeship position on the navy yard. He is succeeded by Russell Brackett of Kentucky.

OPENED TWO NIGHTS' FAIR

Ladies' Social Circle of Christian Church of Rye Score a Great Success.

The Ladies' Social Circle of the Christian Church of Rye opened their annual two-night festival on Wednesday evening at Rye town hall. The house was filled to its capacity and the affair scored a great success from the start.

At 8 o'clock the three-act drama, entitled "Nevada, or the Last Mine," was presented to a large and appreciative audience. The cast of local talent is as follows:

Nevada, the wanderer..... Joseph D. Seavey
Vernon, an old miner..... William Stuart
Tom Carrow, a young miner..... Alvin Caswell
Dandy Dick, a young miner..... Percy Moulton
Silas Steele, missionary of health..... Irving Rand
Jordan, a detective..... Horace Berry
Jule, a black miner..... Ernest Tucker
Win-Kye, a Chinaman..... Guy E. Caswell

Mother Merton..... Mrs. Everett Seavey
Agnes Fidler..... Miss Florence Tucker
Alonso, a wife..... Mrs. Joseph D. Seavey
The play, which was a sad one, was relieved by the humor of Jule, the dandy, and Win-Kye, the Chinaman, and was very well interpreted by the entire cast, which deserves much credit for their excellent acting. Mrs. Wilbur L. Marden coached the play.

The attractive booths which were arranged around the hall were very artistic. The booths were draped in an artful effect, with little work of red and orange crepe paper. This was a most effective decoration. The following are the booths and their attendants:

Cake, Mrs. James Perkins, Mrs. Irving Garland.

Candy, Misses Mildred J. Rand, and Leon P. Poes.

Mystery packages, Misses Florence Marden, Ethel M. Rand.

Pansey work, Mrs. J. H. Fenwick, Mrs. A. H. Poes.

Aprons, Mrs. Chaucery Woodman.

The dining hall, in keeping with the occasion, was also decorated, blue being the color scheme. Mr. Walter S. Philbrick was in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. A. H. Drake had charge of the dining room.

Tonight will be the conclusion of the affair. The stage attraction will be the three-act comedy, "Look Out for Lulu." An orchestra of several pieces furnishes music on both evenings.

"WITHIN THE LAW" WITH JANE COWL AND ORIGINAL NEW YORK COMPANY, FEB. 15.

That world-wide dramatic sensation, "Within the Law," with beautiful Jane Cowl and the original New York company, comes to the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Feb. 14, for a limited engagement.

The event will be the most interesting of the season for many reasons.

Read the Want Ads.

"Within the Law" is the most successful play produced in the past 25 years. It comes to Boston fresh from its 700 nights in New York. Boston will be the only city in this country outside of New York to see the play presented by the company headed by Jane Cowl, who is considered the most beautiful actress in America and who created the role of Mary Turner.

"Within the Law" tells a story which appeals to all classes of playgoers. It is an intense and absorbing revelation of the unfair social conditions, injustices of law courts and the tyranny of police systems which exist in America today. And strong as are the lessons taught by this powerful melodrama, there is absolutely no trace of the sermon, the arguments being presented against backgrounds of such thrilling episodes that the spectator is held in a grip of steel from the start of the curtain to the fall.

The opening night at the Majestic Theatre, Feb. 16, will be remembered throughout all New England as the most noteworthy initial performance ever witnessed by playgoers in years, and it is suggested that everyone expecting to attend would do well to send in mail orders to the Majestic Theatre at once. The prices range from 50c to $2.00 with a popular matinee Wednesday, when no seat will be more than $1.00.

There's No Corn That "GETS-IT" Won't Get

No More Fussing, Plasters, Salves and Corn Pains. Try the New Way.

"Just look at the way that corn comes off!" That's what you'll say when you try wonderful "GETS-IT" on that corn you've tried so long to pry off of your foot. It's easy to apply "GETS-IT" the one, two, three and it's done! The corn begins to shrink away like wax, easily, absolutely. A few drops will do it. "GETS-IT" never makes toes red and raw. Corn pains go! It means the end of cutting and gouging of corns, the end of sticky plasters that don't work anyhow, the end of salvers that set up your toes, no more "fussing," or fussing, for corns and calluses. "GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists. Use a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Mexican Papers State of Wilson's Embargo Act--Called the Friend and Accomplice of Bandits.

Mexico City, Feb. 4. The raising of the embargo on the exportation from the United States to Mexico of arms and munitions of war brought down today columns of manifestations on the head of President Wilson in the newspapers of the Federal capital, who called him the "friend and accomplice of bandits" and an exponent of "mercantilism."

The city, however, gave no outward evidence of hostility toward American residents in consequence of the action of the United States Government. The patrols on the streets were doubled during the night as a precaution, but there was no apparent sign of apprehension on the part of the Mexican authorities that disorders would occur.

President Wilson has dropped the false mask of the politician and declared himself the friend and protector of the rebels. It is the second column headline placed by El Pais over its account of President Wilson's action.

The newspaper declares that President Wilson's motive, while alleged to be based on high pretenses of neutrality interests, is, in reality:

"It was known that European and Japanese factories were turning out war materials for the Mexican Government. Similar establishments in the United States were dismantled, and brought presence to bear on the Government at Washington to put an end to the embargo, and not block their business."

"Humanitarianism Put Aside."

The article continues: "The humanitarianism of President Wilson has been put aside to make way for mercantilism. The worthy Yankee believes that everything in life should be reduced to dollars and cents. He could not bear to see pass without profiting such a profitable opportunity to give as what he surely believes to be a decisive blow. To accumulate in our territory, the elements of destruction is a labor which will soon facilitate American meddling with our affairs."

"It is the first step of the Yankees toward our frontier. All awards will come intervention. The phantom grows more distinct beyond the Rio Grande."

El Pais then calls on the Mexican people to have faith in the good Mexicans, and in the government of Gen. Huerta, declaring:

"The triumph which will crown our efforts will not be only a triumph over the revolution but another and more important one, because America as far south as Tierra del Fuego will ring with the hymn of victory and right over Yankee rapacity. The only thing that President Wilson will accomplish will be to place in bold relief the figure of Victoriano Huerta who, due to American intrigues, symbolizes the triumph of the United States."

lional line. The Federalists will occupy such points as Nuevo Laredo and the drug Negroes, but the Constitutionalists now can ship arms without molestation through Brownsville, Tex., to Matamoros, from Progreso, Tex., to Ojingo and from El Paso to Juarez, as well as from such important points as Douglas and Nogales.

Whether every shipment of arms would have to be preceded by a permit from the State Department, as has been the case in exceptions to the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, heretofore, or whether the proclamation issued by the President would merely restore the status of regular shipments through recognized ports of entry, was a phase of the situation which it was expected would soon be worked out by Government officials.

The disposition of a large quantity of ammunition seized on the border destined for the Constitutionalists also is to be decided by officials of the Treasury Department and Department of Justice.

Troops Likely to Remain on Border. No order for the withdrawal of United States troops from the border will be issued by the War Department unless recommendations are made by Brig. Gen. Bliss, in command there.

See Harrison said today that while he supposed the duties of troops would be considerably lessened by the lifting of the embargo, he could not say positively that fewer soldiers would be needed, because he was not entirely familiar with the details of the situation. There might be scattered situations that needed such watching, he said, that would render it impossible to withdraw any of the troops now.

The Secretary has notified Gen. Bliss of the lifting of the embargo. Prosecution of Earlier Violations. President Wilson's proclamation will not affect prosecution of persons indicted for violation of President Taft's order. Atty. Gen. McReynolds decided today that where Federal grand juries have returned indictments for violation of the Taft proclamation and the Neutrality laws, the case shall be prosecuted. Where arrests have been made but no indictment found to date, further action is not contemplated.

Chief of Police of the Department's Bureau of Investigation telegraphed today to his agents along the Mexican border to make no more arrests for exportation of arms. They will remain on guard, however, to prevent other violations of the Neutrality laws not New Orleans today, en route to Mexico City. The officers were with Gen. Merced when he left before Gen. Villa's forces at Ojingo. They leave tonight for Vera Cruz via Alabama.

The detachment is going back to the capital to serve their chief, it is said, in whatever capacity he may call on them.

STATUS OF THE ARMS QUESTION. Like any situation that has hitherto existed, though its operation will resemble more closely than anything else the state of affairs existing before the joint resolution of Congress of March 14, 1912, was put into effect.

Rebels Were Discriminated Against. Whereas the United States at that time permitted consignments of arms to pass through at these custom houses held by the regularly constituted Government, it allowed no shipments through other ports of entry, even though occupied for months by revolutionary forces. The Constitutionalists held most of the custom houses on the Mexican side of the international line.

SCHOOLS COSTING LESS PER PUPIL THAN FOR THE PAST TEN YEARS

The congested condition of the public schools and the great need of a new school building are set forth in the annual report of Supt. Pringle, which was read to the Board of Instruction on Tuesday evening. The surprising feature of the report is that which shows that despite the large increase in the number of scholars the appropriation has been kept down so that today, when based on the cost per pupil, which of course is the only way of figuring the cost the schools are costing less than ten years ago. The cost per pupil as figured from the number of children now in school since September, and taking the full amount of the appropriation asked for this term, including domestic science brings it down to $29.75.

Mr. Pringle's report on this matter states:

The expenditures for the year were only $78.41 more than for 1912, and the cost per pupil for all expenses was $12.25 less, as the average membership was larger—1739 for the school year ending June 19, 1913. The item of teachers' salaries has increased on entirely on account of the schedule in process of September 1912, which reached their maximum effect in June.

All the items under "Expense of Instruction" will increase on account of the growth in school enrollment. Otherwise, except for equipment, including furniture, the increase in the schools will not materially affect the cost of operation or maintenance, unless a new school is built.

The current expenditure per pupil of Portsmouth as compared with other New Hampshire cities is as follows: Concord, $40.53; Somersworth, $29.56; Dover, $37.76; Nashua, $36.92; Manchester, $32.33; Portsmouth, $30.23; Laconia, $29.70; Berlin, $28.18; Keene, $27.41; Rochester, $26.00; Average $28.57. The above averages are for the financial year ending December 31, 1912, on the basis of the average membership for the school year ending July 15, 1913. If only the routine repairs are included as current expenditures our estimate for this year's cost would have been only $28.65 per pupil.

A large part of the cost charged to Building and Equipment repairs is for permanent improvements which are more in the nature of an investment than an expense. The new toilet at the Whipple and Manning street schools, the steel ceilings at the Cabot street school and the storage battery system for operating the high school program clocks and bells are of this type.

A new school would increase the cost for teachers and janitors salaries and fuel but otherwise would not materially affect the school expenditures.

Schoolhouse Accommodations. The normal capacity of the Farragut school is 300. We have 335 enrolled there now besides the Training School pupils of which there are 18. The Whipple school, with forty pupils in a room, will accommodate 329. Of the present enrollment of 357, 886 are now taken care of in that school and twenty-one are in the high school building with fourteen more pupils. The Haven school will average forty pupils to a room and this has now been reached. There are 43 children in the Cabot street kindergarten and additional seats have been placed in the other rooms—ten more pupils in this building would bring the average up to forty per room. There are two vacant rooms at the Spaulding school and probably all the pupils in the first six grades who live on the north side of the railroad could be accommodated in the Franklin and Spaulding schools. Neither of these buildings are in satisfactory condition and should, when possible, be replaced by a single building centrally located for this section.

The eighth grade which has occupied three rooms in the High School will next year number over 150 and need another room, which cannot be given up by the High School without serious inconvenience. Twenty additional seats were this fall placed in the High School rooms to accommodate our present enrollment. More will be needed next year. It appears that we shall eventually have to provide room for the eighth grades outside the High School. The Whipple school is admirably located for the use of grammar grades which would there be within easy reach of the High School equipment for practical arts.

A consolidation of seventh grades will at once relieve the congestion of both the Farragut and Haven schools, make it possible to divide the classes to the best advantage. At present there is a great inequality in the size of classes, varying from thirty pupils in the Haven seventh grade to fifty pupils in one eighth grade and fifty-eight pupils in the Whipple seventh grade, where an assistant is required. It should be remembered that under the present law all pupils under sixteen years of age must remain in school until they have completed the elementary grades. At present there are but seven pupils in the elementary grades who are over sixteen. During last year thirty-one elementary school pupils—between fourteen and sixteen years of age left school. This loss is now eliminated and will considerably increase the number of pupils in the upper grades, for whose accommodation provision should be made.

Census and Enrollment.

The annual September census of children between the ages of five and sixteen showed 1147 boys and 1136 girls, a total of 2283 children of school age. We enrolled in school during the fall term 1912 different children, of whom 192 were over sixteen. The enrollment in the Parochial school and in private schools accounts for the rest of the school population.

While the census and enrollment have steadily increased during the past seven years, the average membership and attendance increased very little until 1910-11 and since that time have increased about one hundred per year.

For the fall term we had an average membership of 1896 with an average daily attendance of 1739. While in 1910-11 the average attendance was only 1476, the largest average attendance during the preceding ten years in 1903-4, when it reached 1655.

Promotion, Retardation and Loss.

Of the 1323 pupils in the elementary school last June 1153 were promoted and 170 or 12.8 per cent were obliged to remain in the same grade another year. At the opening of school the previous September eight pupils failed to return to school and during the year 31 left school and as far as we can learn ended their school life. The percentage of non-promotion for the preceding year was 0.5 larger and the losses not materially different. The loss will be decreased by the law passed at the last session of the legislature as the pupils who let school were nearly all under sixteen years of age.

Studying causes of non-promotion in other cities has paid well for by this means the avoidable causes have been eliminated and the unavoidable ones reduced in effect. Our improvement in daily attendance will affect one of the most frequently named causes—absence. Medical inspection would not only affect the attendance but greatly increase the efficiency in many cases.

We need one or two ungraded schools in which a pupil may have the extra attention needed to enable him to make up work lost through sickness or other causes, or to receive special instruction in some subject for a time thereby enabling him to go on with his class, where otherwise he might lose a year. The expense of maintaining such schools would probably be less than the cost to the city of an extra year for the pupils who, for lack of this opportunity are annually being kept back. A pupil would remain in such a room only until he could go on with the work of his own class, so the number of pupils assisted would greatly exceed the capacity of the rooms so used. When teachers have small classes—not exceeding thirty or thirty-five, they have time for just this work, but a majority of our classes number forty or more and many others are nearly as large.

Another serious problem is the presence in regular classes of sub-normal pupils who are unable to do the ordinary work of the grade and who, as a consequence, not only make very little progress, but demand from the teacher an entirely disproportionate amount of time and attention. I believe that these matters deserve your serious consideration.

A detailed statement of the promotions, non-promotions and losses by grades is printed in the appendix.

Efficiency of School System.

In a recent circular of the Department of Public Instruction the school systems of the state were rated according to their efficiency as measured by the proportion of the school enrollment which is in high school. If every child went to high school and completed the four years and none were removed for any cause 66.2-3 per cent or 3-12 of the enrollment would be in the eight elementary grades and 33.3-3 per cent of 4-12 would be in the high school.

In this circular Portsmouth was given a rating of 33 on a scale of 100, the other cities being rated as follows: Berlin, 85; Concord, 73; Franklin, 60; Dover, 57; Rochester, 48; Keene, 45; Nashua, 3; Somersworth, 30; Manchester, 30.

I have gathered and corrected the data for the Portsmouth schools for the past ten years, and after deducting the non-resident enrollment, and omitting the kindergarten membership which would change the ratios, I find that in 1903-4 14.5 per cent of the total resident membership was in high school and that it has increased steadily to 18.2 per cent in 1912-13. For the fall term 1913 per cent of the average membership was in the high school, or, in the rating of the circular, our efficiency has increased from 43 per cent in 1903-4 to 55 per cent at the present time.

New Legislation.

Mothers' Relief Act. An act was passed by the last legislature providing that upon the recommendation of the School Board the mothers who were dependent upon their own efforts for the support of children under sixteen years of age might under certain conditions receive aid from the country, so that they could remain at home and properly care for such children. Recommendations have been made by the Board for such relief, but up to the present time no action has been taken by the County Commissioners upon the recommendations other than to report that they have no appropriation which may be used for such purpose.

WHY FIREMEN HURRY

Little Ross, aged 7 had been around the corner inspecting the fire station. He came home to tell his mother of what he had seen there. He said:

"And mama, even if they are just in the middle of sweeping the floor, they drop the broom and rush off to the fire, and even in the night time when they are in bed if the bell rings they jump up and dress and go to the fire—because if they didn't do that, when they got there the fire would be out."—Delineator.

Brupolanger Takes World's Record From France, Beating Previous Mark by Nearly an Hour.

Johannthal, Feb. 4.—The aviator Brupolanger yesterday broke the world's record for an endurance flight. He remained in the air for fourteen hours and seven minutes. The best previous endurance record was made by a French aviator, Fourney, who, in September, 1912, at Bompes, covered 827 miles in thirteen hours and eighteen minutes without stop.

Washington, Feb. 4.—"Butch" McDevitt, a "millionaire" for a day, from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who made a triumphant entry to the capital yesterday behind a section of the marine band, with a statue of himself which he proposed to put in the Hall of Fame at the capitol, spent most of the day in bed at his hotel nursing disappointments.

Spiegel Clark refused "Butch's" request for permission to make a speech from the steps at the capitol, but the chief of police granted him one for a speech in the market place. Several managers of amusement resorts offered to put the statue on exhibition without paying for it, however.

"President Wilson is jealous of me and wants to get me out of town," mourned "Butch" when he recited the day's disappointments to his retainers.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Sale of Old Navy Ships

The Navy Department will shortly take action looking to the disposition to the highest bidder of several obsolete vessels. One is the Mantia at Mare Island which will be sold on May 4, and the appraised value of which is $10,000. She is one of the vessels captured during the Spanish war. Another vessel to be sold is the Restless, a small boat, valued at $2000, now at the naval torpedo station. It was intended to sell the Newack at the Norfolk navy yard, of which was $50,000, has been withdrawn from competition and will be given. Some consideration has also been given to the sale of the old Independence at Mare Island, but the citizens of Galileo have expressed a desire to have the vessel turned over to them for preservation as a relic.

Altho the Navy Department is disposing of vessels to the highest bidder has not yet been decided for the period of three months prescribed in law. A shorter period may be used for this purpose by the authority of the President. It has now been determined by the Secretary of the Navy to have the notice of sale extended to the time limit in order that the greatest amount of publicity may attend the transaction in the hope that foreign bidders may be induced to enter the competition.

Seaman Saves Policeman.

Liberty parties from the cruiser Maryland are popular with the police at San Pedro, Cal., as a result of an incident yesterday when Policeman Randall was saved from death or serious injury at the hands of a Mexican by John DeLoe, one of a land party from the cruiser.

The policeman had warned a band of rowdies dancing in the street to disperse and to emphasize his demand had shoved one of them onto the sidewalk. He continued on his way and had gone but a short distance when the man he had shoved came running quickly behind him with a heavy billiard cue poised for a blow. Just as he was about to bring the weapon down on the head of the policeman DeLoe caught up with him and deflected the blow. He and the policeman had a hard fight to subdue the Mexican.
